

Testing of Year-Round School Use Proposed

Pilot Projects Under Study By State Supt.

State-financed pilot projects in year-around school operation are expected to be submitted by Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, to the Illinois School Problems Commission in December. It was announced here yesterday afternoon.

If the commission gives its support, the plan would be included among legislative proposals forwarded by Supt. Page to the General Assembly for action during the January-June 1969 legislative session.

School districts could then apply for participation, which probably would begin in September 1970 after formulation and approval of detailed plans, representatives of the three local school districts were told by Ronald D. Ladley, education research specialist on the state superintendent's staff.

Amend State Aid Formula
The legislation planning this fall and winter also may include a state financial aid formula amendment which would end the monetary penalty on schools considering staggered quarter operation, Ladley told the Press-Record.

Due to the average daily attendance basis for determining state aid, alternating of pupil vacation periods with school operation would result in a problem which could be resolved by adding a simple multiplier to the aid law, it was brought out.

Other existing laws impede quarterly operation of public schools at present, including a 1967 law that makes attendance voluntary other than in a nine-month portion of the year, told gathering at the Granite City school board office was informed by Ladley and Robert Beckwith, State Chamber of Commerce Education Committee executive.

Artificial Obstacles
These obstacles include summer school aid which permits 115% reimbursement of average attendance, instead of the usual 100%, and authorizes a day's aid for only four clock hours of instruction rather than the five hours required during the winter-spring term.

As a consequence, there is a tendency to continue summer instruction as only a part-time program rather than offering a full schedule and curriculum, despite obvious need for many students in pursuing regular, enrichment and remedial programs in any of the year, including summer, the visiting officials commented.

The pilot program would serve several purposes, including an opportunity to eliminate whatever problems or "bugs" (Continued on page 7, col. 6)

Cpl. Ballew, 17, Killed on Patrol In Vietnam

CPL. BALLEW
Killed in Vietnam

Cpl. Herschel Ballew, 17, was killed in action with the Marine Corps in Vietnam on Aug. 23, according to word received here yesterday by his family. The family received no specific details as to where he was stationed or circumstances concerning his death other than he was on patrol when killed.

Born in Wood River, he was the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wever, 2704 Lincoln avenue. Cpl. Ballew was home on a leave six months ago prior to going overseas.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Ballew, preceded him in death. Mrs. Ballew was killed in an auto accident in an industrial mishap in 1967.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. Lela Meyer of Granite City, Mrs. Stella Roworth, Madison, Mrs. George Dale, Lockport, Ill., and Eugene Ballew, St. Louis; and four brothers, David, George and Timothy Ballew of Fredricktown, Mo.

The traffic "Red Alert" will extend from 4 p.m. Friday to midnight Labor Day as state troopers, city police and county sheriff's deputies will be all out to minimize the rate of traffic accidents, deaths and injuries during the summer-end, long holiday weekend.

GC Council, Employees Agree on 1-Year Pact

Increases of $45-$55
OK'd by 11-3 Vote;
Pickets are Removed

Agreement was reached Monday night by Granite City council members and city employees on a one-year pact granting $55-a-month pay increases to most city workers and $45-a-month to city hall employees.

The agreement was voted at the outset of Monday night's session, following a 20-minute caucus of council members with Bernard O'Keefe and Robert M. Gonsrud of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Officials of unions representing city employees voiced their approval of the council's action, and picketing of the city hall building, started July 22, was ended.

No Debating
Following the caucus, which was called at the start of Monday night's meeting, the council's proposal was the first order of business and was acted upon without debate.

The pay increases are retroactive to the start of the city's fiscal year May 1, and the total amount is within the $90,000 budgeted for pay increases for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

The new one-year agreement also calls for adjustment of employee scales to the street department level and for time-and-a-half pay for police and firefighters.

Unmarked cars and police plans will be used, and officers from the secretary station will be used in traffic duties.

Truck Stations Closed
All of the truck weighing stations along the highway will be closed to lessen the danger of trucks slowly crossing or entering high-speed highways, Capt. Tolant said.

It will be the busiest time of the year on the highways with the Labor Day holidays being the last of the summer, he added, noting that many will be on picnics, outings or ending traffic on the bridge.

The increases were recommended by Cloverdale and Colpitts of New York, traffic consultants, to offset loss of income caused by diminishing traffic on the bridge.

Injunction Suit Ordered Against Madison Faculty

95 Teachers Affected
In Contract Stalemate;
Schools Still Closed

The Madison board of education last night ordered its attorney, John Gitchoff, to file individual injunction suits against 95 Madison school teachers who have refused to conduct classes.

Schools closed Tuesday, the first scheduled full day, as members of the American Federation of Teachers Local 763 remained off the job in support of contract demands.

A delegation including William M. Ebersold, Venice city clerk and East Side Levee & Sanitary district trustee, Col. Edwin B. Decker, St. Louis district engineer, and Gene Jette, aide to Cong. Melvin Price, stressed that diversion of hillside runoff water would lead a large region of Illinois.

William Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, singled out Horseshoe Lake and state parks in this area benefitting from such drainage projects.

Plans Would Be Revised
With the state a probable replacement for the East Side levee district as the local-level financial contributor for hillside drainage lines that would receive substantial federal funds, it is believed that the Army Corps of Engineers will revamp construction plans accordingly.

Several years may be required. The levee district is financed primarily by Quad-City and St. Louis property taxes, and it was felt that so limited an area should not be called upon to finance a major part of a project that would aid much of Madison and St. Clair counties.

Improvement of drainage facilities along the bluffs was authorized by Congress a decade ago.

4-Cent Boost In GC Street Tax in Making

Granite City council members, who will be meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in a recessed session to consider the city's tax levy for next year, indicated Monday night they would go along with a four-cent boost in the special tax rate for street and bridge purposes. The present rate is six cents per $100 assessed valuation, and the maximum is 10 cents.

City Atty. Allen estimated the added rate would bring in an additional $71,000 for the city. Street Supt. Warfield urged passage of the additional tax.

Council members voted 10-4 Monday night for the ordinance to be prepared, and Allen advised them it should be adopted prior to the tax levy ordinance. The new levy is to include wage increases granted Monday night to the city's 140 employees.

Warfield Gives Cost In urging support of the measure, Supt. Warfield said the street department needs funds to carry out numerous projects requested by local residents. "I can't see anyone objecting to it," he said, adding that he figured the annual cost to the owner of a $10,000 home to be about $2.

Objections were made by Aldermen Nomm and Bartosik, who along with Basarich and Johnson voted against the preparation of the ordinance.

Bartosik said the budget had been based on anticipated income and he saw no reason for the increase at this time. It was pointed out to him that the added tax would not be collected until next year.

Nomm said he believed the additional four-cent tax was unnecessary and would place a heavy burden on individuals with limited incomes. "I'm thinking of the retired persons living in the city," he added.

Several other Aldermen pointed out that there have been many sidewalk and street projects in Nomm's area and that to get similar work in other wards, it would be necessary for the added tax. Parmley added that a large amount of the special tax would be paid by industries.

Council members expressed hope that with the added tax funds, the street department could expand its sidewalk repair program to cut down the number of mishaps which result in costly lawsuits for the city.

Voting for the preparation of the ordinance were Aldermen Dallas, Whitmer, Boyd, Poulos, Rutledge, Fry, Parmley, Jarrett, Robertson and Davidson. Absent were Aldermen Moerlein and Green.

Price Receives Pen From Pres. Johnson

Reg. Melvin Price, Dem., East St. Louis, has been given the pen, President Lyndon B. Johnson, used for signing into law the Price amendment bill of rights for reservists and guardsmen. In a cover letter from the Texas White House, Price was singled out for his legislative contribution in this field.

Under the Price bill, reservists and national guardsmen job protection rights are strengthened and re-employment opportunities are extended to cover additional periods of service that are requested by the government. President Johnson declared this bill, now a law, "makes clear that reservists and guardsmen will not be treated unfairly in their employment, and that those recalled to active duty or who extend their active duty will not lose their re-employment rights because of this additional service in our armed forces."

Two Charges Filed Arrested by Venice police at 9:10 p.m. Tuesday at Fourth and Broadway, Bobby Joe Brown, 26, of St. Louis, was charged with driving without an operator's license and under the influence of alcohol. He was released at 10 a.m. yesterday on payment of $100 cash bail, with notice to appear for a hearing Sept. 28 in Granite City.

MRS. EILEEN DAYTON, widow of Warrant Officer James L. Dayton, receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross and other medals and awards posthumously from Major General L. B. Ramsey, Third U. S. Army Chief of Staff, during recent ceremonies at Fort McPherson, Ga. W/O Dayton, died of wounds received in action in Vietnam as an aircraft commander of an armed UH-1C helicopter.

Posthumous DFC Medal Award for W/O Dayton

The Distinguished Flying Cross was presented to Mrs. Eileen Dayton, widow of Warrant Officer James L. Dayton, in ceremonies held recently at Fort McPherson, Ga. Major General L. B. Ramsey, Third U. S. Army Chief of Staff, officiated.

Col. and Mrs. K. G. Dayton, parents of W/O Dayton, and their son, Kenneth, and daughter, Diane, resided at the Granite City Army Depot while Col. Dayton was commanding officer of the 503rd Service Group. They were here from June 1967 to the spring of 1968. Kenneth Dayton was graduated from Granite City high school this past June.

Other posthumous awards and decorations received by Mrs. Dayton for her late husband were the Distinguished Flying Cross with First Oak Leaf Cluster; the Air Medal with First Oak Leaf Cluster with "V" device for valor; the Air Medal with Second through Tenth Oak Leaf Clusters; the Purple Heart; the National Defense Service Medal; the Vietnam Service Medal; the Republic of Vietnam Medal with attached device, 1960; and the Army Aviator Badge. She also received a Gold Star Lapel button.

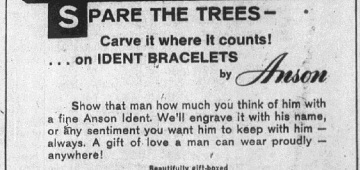

W/O Dayton was awarded the first Distinguished Flying Cross while a member of the 281st Aviation Co. He distinguished himself on Jan. 19, 1968, by "exceptionally valorous actions while serving as pilot of an armed helicopter during a mission to extract a long range reconnaissance patrol that was surrounded by an enemy force near Pleiku, Republic of Vietnam."

"He delivered heavy suppressive fire, relieving the pressure on the ground team, despite intense hostile fire from automatic weapons."

He was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received on May 8, which resulted in his death, for valorous actions while serving as aircraft commander of an armed UH-1C helicopter west of Da Nang.

Also attending the ceremonies were his parents, Col. and Mrs. Dayton and children, Diane and Kenneth, who now reside at Fort McPherson.

Two License Charges Roger L. Bloodworth, 3222b Kilmarry drive, was ticketed at 4:55 p.m. Tuesday at Willow and St. Clair avenues on charges of driving with improper display of state license (one plate), and with driving without a city auto sticker.

95% of Teenagers Are Good Citizens, Club Is Told

"Ninety-five percent of the teenagers are good, honorable forthright young people and will be the fine citizens we want them to be," Melvin Gillie pointed out in a talk to the Kiwanis Club meeting Monday evening at the Rose Bowl.

Gillie was introduced by the program chairman, William Herman. In a strong defense of today's youth Gillie stated, "The adults are deploring the activities of teenagers, blaming them for the increase in crime, for our widespread immorality, and call them a rebellious generation."

He said the arrests of youths under 18 for serious offenses have increased 54% in seven years and are up 19% for children from 10 to 17. "But, the arrests of persons under 18 made up only 25% of the total police arrests in 1966," Gillie stressed, adding, "only five percent of the total youth population of the country went before the courts in serious criminal acts, leaving 95% of the youth not in trouble."

"Five percent may be in trouble, but compare this number with that of the millions of youths who are useful citizens, active church workers, Boy scouts, scholars, industrious workers, Peace Corps members and the young men who make up the bulk of our fighting forces in Vietnam."

In concluding, he stated teenagers are living in a world made by adults and standards reflect those of their elders. "They can hardly be blamed for the sin of the world; for most of it is not of their making. Adults, not the youth, set the pattern of major crime in America—77% of it."

He listed a number of adult enterprises which are not above reproach, such as the production and distribution of sensual and debauched movies, pornographic books and magazines, unwholesome radio and TV programs and suggestive Broadway plays that tour the nation.

Vice-president Alvin Gross presided over the business meeting in the absence of Michael Tondas, president.

A report on the first annual convention of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District of Kiwanis International, in Chicago, this month was given by Peter E. Jellen. He listed the principal acts of the convention effecting all clubs in the 14 District including the changing of the fiscal year of the Kiwanis Clubs.

Advice, Gifts, Exhibits to Highlight Flower Festival

The stage is nearly set for the Sept. 8 Granite City park Fall Flower Festival. The public will enter displays and attend, both free of charge. Exhibits, gifts, entertainment, advice and prizes will be among the highlights of the festival, planned for 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the ice skating rink-recreation center pavilion in Wilson Park.

All displays will be freshly arranged. Intense activity is scheduled for the early morning of the day of the show, Sunday, Sept. 8. Schedules of entries were presented to the horticulture judges and are completed in this article.

Full schedules are available to the public at the Granite City library, 20th street and Delmar avenue; at the park district office in Wilson Park; and from the five cooperating clubs, the Army Depot Garden club, Cloverview Garden club, Garden Study club, Gardenaires Garden club and the Inglewood Garden club.

Information is available from Earl T. Glenn, 1629 Galfield avenue.

Entries for the horticulture and artistic flower arranging show will be received between 7 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sept. 8 at the pavilion. Late entries will not be judged.

Amateur Gardeners Invited. All amateur gardeners in the Granite City area and all interested in growing plants are not only invited but are being asked to exhibit in all classes.

Features of the event will include a concert by the local music department of Granite City high school, under the direction of Warren Simpkins, at 2:15 p.m.

There will be extensive displays by local nurseries and florists.

Eight-foot exhibits are planned by Bob's Flowers, Blossom Shoppe, Ferd's Flowers, Andrews Florists, Willis Flowers and Herring Flowers. Twenty-foot-long and larger displays are to be set up by such establishments as local Nurseries, Soechtig's Greenhouse and Schermer's Garden Shop.

Plant, Garden Clinic. A "plant doctor clinic" will be conducted under the direction of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, with Wayne Sietz answering questions and helping gardeners with their insect, disease and growing problems, with ornamentals and lawn care. Chris Doll will discuss law fruit and vegetable problems.

Greenfield Garden Products Co., Scott's Products Co., the Ortho Co. and the U.S. Agricultural Chemicals Co. will provide informational assistance and samples of their products as prizes to those attending. Other firms also are expected to participate.

Garden lighting and other aspects of outdoor residential beautification also will be included in the festival, which is expected to be held annually.

Plans call for judging of entries to take place between 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. The public may attend beginning at 2 p.m.

The printed schedules now available explain all rules, denote the categories and outline the artistic arrangement divisions.

Junior Division
A special division of horticulture, educational and arranging sections will be limited to junior gardeners under 18 years of age.

In the junior division, the horticulture section will consist of the same classes and rules as in the adult division, but only one bloom will be required.

The junior educational portions will feature collections and exhibits of leaves, rocks, seeds, insects, sea shells, nuts, bird houses, bird feeders, etc.

Junior artistic competition will have the same rules as the adult division, with the following seven categories listed: "Vacation Memories"—garden flowers only.
Class A: "Day at the Beach"—arrangement in a sand pail.
Class B: "A Trip to the Zoo"—arrangement using an animal figure accessory.
Class C: "Take Me Out to the Ball Game"—use your imagination.

Class D: "Platter Party"—use a record as a base or backing for arrangement.
Class E: "Firecrackers"—vertical rod arrangement.
Class F: "Lemonade Stand"—yellow arrangement.

Scout and Four-H groups are among those expected to take part in the junior competition.

23 Sections of Show
Ten horticulture sections published in detail Aug. 22 were a n u l s . perennials, bulbous-rooted plants, roses, shrubs, cacti-succulents-sedums, house plants in possession at least three months, vegetables, fruits and collections.

On Aug. 26, the Press-Record listed the ten artistic categories: "Indian summer, weather forecast, take two if you like," from the rose garden, beginners' luck, male cat, down to earth, "not a bit like peas in a pod," ready-to-wear and "beauty is forever" wall plaques.

General rules follow. Exhibitors are not limited to garden club members. Decisions by judges will be final.

There are no entry fees, no pre-registration and no cash prizes. Ribbons will be awarded to prize-winning entries.

Each entry must bear a completely filled-out entry tag (section, class, variety and exhibitor's name) obtained at the information desk between 7 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sept. 8.

Six-Hour Display
All exhibits must remain in place until 8 p.m., but must be removed by 9:30 p.m. The park district will not be responsible for loss or breakage.

Horticulture entries must be grown by the exhibitor and named, if possible. Such entries must be displayed in containers (such as soda bottle) furnished by the exhibitor.

There is no limit to the total number of entries per exhibitor. All entries should be properly groomed—free of dirt, insects and disease. Exhibits entered for judging are not to exceed 30 inches in any way, excluding house plants.

The horticulture chairman will open a separate class for unlisted genera or may subdivide an existing class to accommodate all entries.

Awards will be a blue ribbon for first, red for second, yellow for third and white for honorable mention in each flower festival class in which the entries are worthy.

A sweepstakes bowl will go to the exhibitor receiving the most blue ribbons in the horticulture division.

The exhibitor receiving the most blue ribbons in the artistic division will be presented a sweepstakes cup.

And a sweepstakes trophy will be awarded to the junior exhibitor receiving the most blue ribbons in the junior division.

Officials of the sponsoring park district are William Kozyk, president; Barry Loman, vice-president; W. Milton Worthen, Clarence Baumeier and Paul Schuler, commissioners; Harold E. Brown, superintendent of parks and recreation; Frank Res, secretary; John Mink, treasurer; and Randall Robertson, attorney.

protection to residents of the district.

Oldest Residential Area
Planning District No. 2: The district is bounded on the north by Pontoon road, on the south by 23rd street and the downtown business district, on the east by Nameoki road and on the west by the railroad tracks. The district encompasses primarily the oldest residential area of the city with exception of the northern portion of the district which is composed of residential units of a more recent vintage.

The report says:
"One of the most striking features of the district is the amount of vacant land which is approximately one-fifth of the land area of district. A major portion of this vacant land is located in the northwest section of the district and is situated between the two railroad tracks. The report states that it is apparent that practically all of the vacant land will develop for residential use."

A significant development in this section is establishment of the Nameoki Village shopping center, the plan notes. The center is located just north of a junction of Fehln road and Nameoki road and has become a major traffic generator in addition to becoming a major rival of the Central Business District.

Two Fire Stations
The district is fairly well served by public facilities since schools and parks are readily available," the report sets out. "Although the district has a deficiency of approximately 55 acres of recreation land, Wilson Park has such a varied recreational program that the shortage is somewhat compensated for by the intensive program. The district has two fire stations and is in close proximity to the police station in the Central Business District. Planning District No. 2 possibly is the best serviced planning district in the terms of public facilities."

The report also sets out, however, that the railroad tracks in this district again present a problem of congestion, delay and hazard with at-grade crossings on Pontoon road. Another point of vehicular congestion is the signalized intersection of Nameoki road and Madison avenue "which is one of the most frequently traversed intersections in the community."

Planning District No. 3: Boundaries of this district are Pontoon road on the north; 23rd street and Illinois Route 162 on the south; the Alton & Southern railroad on the east and Nameoki road on the west. The district encompasses most of the area commonly referred to as Nameoki and is predominantly an area of single-family residences of recent vintage.

Low Park Acreage
The plan report states this area is well serviced by elementary schools, with six located in the district. The district also has 35 acres devoted to parks. The recommended acreage is about 131 acres for a district of this size.

The report also recommends a study of the feasibility of establishing a combined police-fire station. It also points out that in this district is being developed rapidly. The report says:

"The school district will open Grigsby junior high school in the fall and a combined multi-family, single-family and commercial complex has been proposed for the McFarland tract. The eastern periphery of this district, which is not within the city limits, will be a prime area for residential development and annexation should precede this development."

Planning District No. 4: This area is bounded on the north by Interstate 270; by Pontoon road on the south; Alton & Southern railroad on the east and the railroad tracks on the west. The majority of this area is located outside the city limits and is approximately three-fifths vacant land with scattered concentrations of residential units. This area, the report says, should be of interest to the city for it is prime territory for annexation.

Has Its Problems
Of this particular district, the plan report asserts the district has serious problems.

"The area from the city limits to the Nameoki township line," the report goes on, "is not provided with fire protection. The area between the township line and Interstate 270 is provided protection by the Mitchell Fire Protection district. For police protection, the area comes under the jurisdiction of the Madison county sheriff's department which has had to meet the demands on it by the unincorporated areas."

"This district at the present time, does not possess any residential land within its boundaries. When and if portions of the district are annexed by vacation trips. The average Labor Day traffic death toll ranges from 600 to 750, according to the National Safety Council.

NAVY LATHE OPERATOR. Machinery Repairman third-class James B. Vulcan, a flagship for the commander of the Atlantic Fleet Service Force. The Vulcan provides practically all the industrial potential of a shipyard; its personnel, all trained technicians, have years of ship repair and conversion experience. A graduate of Granite high school, Petty Officer Stark entered the service in September 1965.

'Red Alert'

General safety precautions on the part of drivers were listed by Ross V. Randolph, director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, who asked every motorist to drive defensively and to remain on the alert for what other drivers may do.

"I know of no other way in the world to cut down on the tragedy of highway travel," he said, "and I would urge every motorist to drive defensively and to remain on the alert for what other drivers may do."

"Don't pass on hills, even though it may be a small one and appears to be safe for passing. The moment you lose sight of the car ahead, you are in danger."

Other precautions he advised are:
Wear your seat belts.
Don't try to pass on curves unless you can see the entire curve ahead.

Slow down at grade crossings and be sure you are clear before starting to cross.

Slow down in the rain, particularly at street or road intersections.

Obey every traffic sign, every highway marker, and never cross over the yellow line in your traffic lane.

If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink. Driving carefully, Randolph said, is a matter of common sense, and that a minute saved may not be worth it if it leads to an accident, no matter how trivial.

MORE ABOUT GC Council

firemen for emergency call-outs.

Sick Leave
Sick leave is to be accumulative to 90 days maximum, with a city employee to receive pay for a third of accumulative time (maximum of 30 days) upon retirement.

Council approval of the agreement was 11-3. Those voting for the one-year pact were Aldermen Dallas, Bartolack, Whitmer, Boyd, Rutledge, Basarich, Fry, Parmenter, Jarrett, Robertson and Daves. Opposed were Poulos, Nott and Johnson. Those absent were Mortimer and Green.

The proposal, which was written out in long hand during the caucus, was presented to the council by Alderman Boyd, following a motion to suspend other council business. As the council re-convened after the caucus, Mayor Parmenter recommended immediate action on the issue.

Reconsideration Next May
The new agreement also calls for reconsideration of the city sick leave policies next May 1. In recent months, council members have called for changes in the program because of abuses.

Under the new proposal the $35 and $55 monthly scales for sewage treatment plant laborers and operators were increased to the $52 monthly rate paid street department employees and then the $55 increase added to put the monthly rates at $67.

Other new monthly pay scales at the treatment plant will be $70 for the plant superintendent and $65 for the assistant superintendent and for the maintenance man.

Police Transfers Made in GC Dept. Effective Monday

A series of transfers within the Granite City police department will take effect on Monday, Police Chief Ronald Veizer announced today.

Dusan Gagich, current desk clerk, is being assigned to the juvenile division, replacing Alan LeMaster, who is moving back to the uniform division on night patrol.

Albert Young is being moved from the uniformed patrol to the traffic division.

Patrolman Jerry Wilson has been moved to the morning police desk for the 5 a.m. to 1 p.m. shift. Motorcycle Patrolman Richard Bell was named to the 1 to 3 p.m. desk shift. Officers Kelly Hodges and Dennis Chennault will be on night patrol.

Gagich, with the department for 12½ years, has worked in the uniformed and juvenile divisions and has attended numerous workshops in juvenile and other police matters. He resides with his family at 2808 Sunset drive.

Young, on the department two years, has received three commendations. In February 1967, he discovered a fire and alerted residents to safety. In December 1967, he apprehended persons in a stolen auto and cleared nine stolen car cases. Last June, while off duty, he intercepted a burglar leaving Lee's gun shop.

He has attended the basic police training school, and fingerprint, riot control and bomb disposal schools and other seminars. He lives with his family at 2929 Washington avenue.

1485 Attend GC Park Sponsored Opera Trips

Summer trips to the Municipal Opera, sponsored by the Granite City park district, attracted a record-breaking 1485 local residents during the 1968 season, according to Harold Brown, superintendent of parks.

Those participating in the 14 opera trips numbered 585 more than last season and 1485 more than the two groups who initiated the park district's opera program in its first season in 1961, Brown commented.

Thirty-four buses were needed this summer, Brown said, adding that only two buses were required the initial season.

Concluding the 1968 season, 80 Granite Cityans participated in the final park-sponsored trip Tuesday evening to "The Sound of Music," with 145 local persons having enjoyed the same musical one week earlier.

Most popular presentations were "Showboat," "Carousel" and "Hello Dolly," with single performances of each show drawing 190 patrons. A total of 158 attended the two-week run of "My Fair Lady" and 235 reservations were made for two "Sound of Music" performances, Brown said.

$675,432 Public Aid To 9096 in County

Illinois public aid in June totaled $675,432 for 9096 residents of Madison county, a newly issued report by Director Harold O. Swank showed this week. Average check in this county was $74 a person.

Biggest allocations were $26,892 to 6004 persons ($54 average) through aid to dependent children, $203,924 to 1499 ($146 average) under old age assistance and $122,583 to 856 persons ($143 average) receiving disability assistance.

Other factors in the month's tabulation were general assistance, $19,334 paid to 798 people ($24 average) and blind assistance, $2899 distributed to 38 persons ($76 average).

Statewide, aid decreases in old age, blind and general aid more than offset gains in disability assistance and aid to dependent children. An overall drop of 1233 brought the number of persons on the rolls to 488,941.

The current caseload is 48,805 above the June 1967 total. Included are 367,821 on aid to the aged, to the blind and to dependent children receiving assistance and also eligible for medical care; 53,812 eligible for medical care only; and 65,208 on general assistance.

Expenditures for June were $35,264,497, with monthly payments averaging $153 to the disabled, $114 to the blind, $112 to the aged, $58 to general recipients and $55 to dependent children.

MORE ABOUT Jaycees

itor and state's attorney, Partney advised.

The Jaycee chairman said, "We urge all local residents to take a few moments of their time and stop by one of the six polling places to cast their vote. The results should prove interesting and may foretell what trends to expect in the November general election."

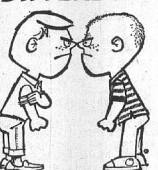

"Voting will be by secret ballot, but we plan to record the names of those voting to avoid duplication," Partney said. The only restriction is that voters must be 21 years of age or older, he added.

Jaycees named to "election official" posts at Nameoki Village shopping center, include Partney, Richard Domitrovich, Boyd Presley, Bill Hays, John Robertson, Stanley Nos, Larry Patton and Vic Wetherholt.

Voting at Bellemore Village shopping center will be overseen by Richard Dawdy, Jaycee president, and Paul Freeman, Gary Davis, Don Bowles, James Jeffries, Raymond Lake, Grad Krause and Earl Dotzauer.

Jaycee officials on duty at downtown booths will be William Amish, Robert Bischoff, David Thomas, Gary Delaioye, Earl Warnhoff, Fred Haldeman, Guy Cooper and Dr. Robert Schmidt.

30-Day '68 Season for Illinois Duck Hunters

Illinois duck hunters will have a 30-day season this fall, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced.

The season will open at sunrise Saturday, Nov. 2, and end at sunset Sunday, Dec. 1. Hunting hours will be from sunrise until sunset every day. The daily bag limit of three ducks may not include more than (a) one canvasback or one redhead, (b) one mallard, (c) two wood ducks or (d) two black ducks.

The possession limit of six ducks may not include more than (a) one canvasback or redhead, (b) two mallards, (c) four wood ducks or (d) four black ducks. Hunters may not have more than the daily bag limit in their possession on opening day.

Limit on coots is 10 and the possession limit is 20. Limits on mergansers are five a day, and 10 in possession, of which not more than one a day and two in possession may be hooded mergansers.

Mallard is the Favorite

The mallard is the most important duck to the Illinois waterfowl. It is the duck he prefers to hunt, and the mallards are taken in Illinois than any other species.

Most of the mallards that migrate through Illinois are hatched and reared in the prairie provinces of Canada. Poor water conditions have reduced the number of potatoes and sloughs in the potato country from about two million to less than 500,000. The sloughs are small, shallow depressions filled with water in spring when snow melts. They are essential for mallard production.

Conditions must be right for meltwater to flow into the potatoes and sloughs. Unless the soils hold enough moisture in the fall to freeze hard, meltwaters percolate into the ground rather than running into the potatoes. If soils freeze hard, if snow accumulation is good, and if the spring thaw is rapid, the potatoes fill.

A few rains in spring tend to keep water levels up. But drought conditions have upset the balance and few ducks were hatched in 1968.

The Department of Conservation has requested permission from the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife to hold a special 14-day season on scup or bluebirds in the Keokuk Pool of the Mississippi, where the birds gather in great numbers during the fall flights.

Goose Hunting Rules

If permission is granted, the season will begin at sunrise Saturday, Oct. 19, and end at sunset, Friday, Nov. 8. During this season, bluebirds may be hunted from the Keokuk Dam to the Fort Madison Bridge. The daily limit will be five scup and the possession limit ten scup.

Goose season will begin at sunrise Monday, Oct. 14, and end at sunset Sunday, Oct. 20, except in Alexander, Union, Williamson and Jackson counties, where most of the Canada geese of the Mississippi flyway winter, the season will begin at sunrise Monday, Nov. 11, and end at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 22, provided that a quota of 20,000 Canada geese is not reached before the scheduled closing date. In that event, the season will be closed immediately.

Hunting hours are from sunrise until sunset 3 p.m. in Alexander, Union, Williamson and Jackson counties and from sunrise until sunset elsewhere in the state.

The daily limit is five geese but may not include more than two Canada or two white-fronted geese or one of each species. The possession limit of five geese may not include more than four Canada, or two white-fronted geese, or four Canada geese and two white-fronted geese.

Geese bagged in Illinois may not be transported or shipped by common carrier, except as the personal baggage of the hunter who killed them.

Grigsby Preparing for First Football Season

The first Grigsby junior high school football season is only three weeks away and the coaches at the new school are optimistic.

There are 43 boys equipped and practicing for the opening Madison County Conference game Sept. 19 against Coolidge, champion of the league last year.

Originally it was planned that the squad would travel to Worthen Park for its practices. But it was later decided that this would take too much time, so the squad is using its own field, despite some problems associated with the condition of the playing surface.

It will be the first Granite City team not to wear the traditional red in its colors; the team colors will be Kelly green and white.

Meeting Next Week On Venice Underpass

Starting date for construction of the Broadway underpass in Venice may be announced next Thursday, following a meeting of district highway officials and the contractor, Nelson Construction Co., Clayton, Mo., according to Carl Schlosser, highway district construction engineer.

Schlosser said today the contractor has indicated the firm will start hauling fill dirt within the next two or three days into an area where existing railroad lines are to be re-located. District highway crews are attempting to get the site staked out at the present time to permit construction to begin at the earliest date, the engineer explained.

He also announced the Lewis and Clark bridge at Alton will be closed at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 16, to permit sealing and waterproofing the bridge deck. The bridge will be closed a minimum of five days, reopening Friday evening, Sept. 20, or the following morning, if weather permits, Schlosser added.

Club Delmar vs. loser of the Dairy Masters-Branding game at 9 p.m.

At Worthen Park Friday, it will be the winner of the McDonnell game vs. the winner of the Tri-City game at 7 p.m.; winner of the Union Star and Zips games at 8 p.m.; and winners of the Falstaff and Club Delmar games at 9 p.m. All are in the winner bracket.

Weekend Outlook

Games Saturday at Worthen Park will begin at 6 p.m., with four games scheduled an hour apart.

On Sunday at Wilson Park, games will start at 1-4 p.m. in the loser bracket. At Worthen Park Sunday, the winners' bracket will resume at 2 p.m. and the last game is scheduled for 10 p.m.

Labor Day final eliminations will be played at Worthen Park starting at 1:30 p.m., with third place decided at 3 p.m. and the championship game starting at 7 p.m. If the 7 p.m. loser was unbeaten, a repeat contest will take place at 9 p.m. Monday to decide the champion.

It also will permit various kinds of extended school usage to be tried on an experimental basis, he said.

These would include 10-month or 11-month school years, staggered three-month vacations, and a plan under which each 12 weeks of instruction would be followed by four weeks for vacation, remedial study or enrichment courses.

GC Has Landfill--Wants Out of County's Program

Granite City wants to be excluded from the county's proposed waste disposal program for which a special tax referendum is scheduled. Now, the local residents would be paying double taxes if the county's program includes Granite City and is approved by voters. He pointed out a similar suit has been filed by the city of Alton which has its own sanitary landfill site, and a circuit court order for an injunction was issued yesterday in Edwardsville. Associate Judge Foss D. Meyer is holding that state law does not permit a county to levy a tax for such an operation.

Granite City operated its own landfill south of Madison along Route 202 until last June. The site was filled, and the city hopes that in a few years the fill will settle sufficiently for the tract to be sold.

Granite City garbage-trash contractor, Miami East Corp., is using the MAL landfill on Chouteau Island, one of the sites mentioned as a possible landfill for the county program. Incineration also is being considered under the county plan.

About 100 Granite City Jaycees and their wives, together with prospective club members and other guests, will attend a fish fry and dance Saturday evening at the Jaycee Clubhouse honoring Ronald Riek of Pekin, president of the Illinois Jaycee organization.

Riek will discuss the Jaycee program with prospective members and review activities proposed for Illinois chapters during 1968-69. It is the first visit by the Jaycee state president to the local area since his election at the state convention earlier this summer in Chicago.

Richard Dawdy, local Jaycee president, today announced the fish fry will start at 7 p.m. Saturday, with dancing scheduled about 9 p.m.

The committee, being established statewide, includes college, university, high school and other teachers, as well as school administrators.

Council Hopeful of Speedup in Storm, Sanitary Sewer Construction

Anticipation of a speedup of construction for the new sanitary sewer and storm water drainage systems throughout large sections of Granite City was expressed during Monday night's council session by aldermen who are receiving complaints of street excavations and inconveniences.

Mayor Partney pointed out that the Housing & Urban Development agency, which has given the city a $1,500,000 construction grant, is concerned with city qualification for the grants. HUD is calling for confirmation of needed easements.

"If we don't get those in, we'll be losing our federal funds. I suggest you tell the bond attorney to get going," the mayor told the council.

Alderman Bartosiek said the bond attorney, Horace Calvo, has the easements and would be instructed to forward them as quickly as possible to HUD's Chicago office.

Stalls at 7 Sites
An Aug. 21 letter from HUD noted delay by the city in obtaining the easement for the East 23rd street drainage ditch and stalls at seven construction sites visited Aug. 14.

At various sites along the construction areas of both the sanitary sewer system and the drainage system, HUD inspectors reported, it was learned that uncharted utility lines—water, gas and buried phone cables—were causing delays while utility lines are re-routed.

Specific complaints during the meeting were the inconveniences to residents of the East Granite area and so business at 27th and Iowa streets and 27th and Washington avenue, resulting from storm water line excavations, and to residents of North Granite because of the condition of Namecki drive, resulting from the sanitary sewer installation.

Other complaints were brought out relative to the sanitary sewer installation on Jefferson and Nevada avenues.

Bartosiek said there was no doubt the city could do along Namecki drive until the 60-day period for settling of the backfill is over. He and Alderman Rutledge disagreed over the amount of time that has passed. Rutledge called for action by the project engineer in getting the contractor, General Contracting Co., to improve the east side of Namecki drive where the line was installed—especially at the connection points.

Mayor Partney said he has received complaints of a month-long delay in work on a siphon system on 27th street between Iowa street and Washington avenue. "A grocer and a service station operator there told me their businesses are being hurt. They say nothing has been done there for a month."

The $3,000,000 storm water work is being handled by S. M. Wilson & Co.

Lochner is hiring the inspectors, "and most of them are from out of town," the mayor commented.

Alderman Whitmer said he had observed equipment operators "just shoving dirt back into excavations without any packing." Basarich commented that with use of sand, tamping would be at a minimum. HUD specifies either tamping or water jet methods.

The federal agency pointed out that their representatives were aware of the inclement weather delay in the site of the sanitary sewer project, but added that the storm water project delays were most pressing.

The contractor had served notice on the city that failure to get the ditch easement was causing tie-ups on construction of the lateral lines.

Surveys Planned on GC School Innovations

During the 1968-69 school year, the Granite City school district will make a comprehensive study of changes made in the elementary schools over the past several years. The study will attempt to determine the value of some of the innovations inaugurated in the system.

Under the direction of Owen Humphrey, curriculum coordinator, and W. R. Brinkhoff, assistant director of the gifted program, a series of tests and questionnaires will be used to determine the effectiveness of changes designed to improve the educational program for local children.

"Sweeping educational change takes place only after careful study of the problem," a joint statement pointed out today.

"The use of new programs in other schools has been the result of studies which have been made to determine the value of such programs are carefully evaluated."

Bumper Corn Crop Expected

The 1968 corn crop is expected to equal or exceed the requirements for domestic use and exports during the 1968-69 marketing year, forecast L. H. Simerl of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

During the Illinois Grain Corp. annual manager-director institute in Springfield, Tuesday.

The IGC manager-director institute preceded the grain marketing cooperative's annual meeting which was scheduled for Wednesday. Illinois Grain Corp. is an affiliate of the Illinois Agricultural Association, the statewide Farm Bureau.

Simerl, in a discussion of the current farm marketing outlook, said that the total supply of corn for the coming marketing year will be larger than the 5.54 billion bushels of the past year.

"It may even exceed the record large supply of 5.69 billion bushels of 1960-61. The carry-over of old corn on Oct. 1 will be near 1.25 billion bushels, up from 823 million a year ago."

The new crop was estimated in August at 4.7 billion bushels, compared with the super crop of 4.73 billion bushels harvested last fall.

"Total use and exports of corn are expected to increase moderately again during the year ahead. Among domestic uses for corn, livestock and poultry feed is the big item. The amount used for feed may be around 3.4 billion bushels, up 2 or 3 per cent from this year."

Lt. Hancock Assigned At Kelly AFB, Tex.

First Lt. David R. Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hancock of 1 Frontenac lane, has arrived for duty at Kelly AFB, Tex. His wife is the former Cheryl Ann Christ.

Lt. Hancock, a supply operations officer, is assigned to a unit of the Air Force Logistics Command. He previously served at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

"Total use and exports of corn are expected to increase moderately again during the year ahead. Among domestic uses for corn, livestock and poultry feed is the big item. The amount used for feed may be around 3.4 billion bushels, up 2 or 3 per cent from this year."

3 Local Jr. Red Cross Leaders Return from Camp

Three Red Cross youth leaders, representing Junior Red Cross organizations at local high schools, returned last weekend from Pretty Lake, Wis., where they attended a six-day leadership training seminar sponsored by the American Red Cross.

The trio included Miss Paula Broadway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Broadway, 1002 Grand avenue, a Madison high school student; Miss Rita Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wallace, 2540 Missouri avenue, a Granite City high school senior; and David Scaturro, a student at Venice high school and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scaturro, 808 Third street, Venice.

More than 100 Red Cross youth leaders participated in a variety of activities—recreational and educational—many designed to aid them in projects promoted through their individual school or in chapter community programs.

Trips expenses for the local youths were financed by the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter, which is partially reimbursed by enrollment, held each year at Quad-Cities schools.

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, Tri-City Red Cross executive director, said the Red Cross sponsors are now coordinating programs in each of the three high schools, with additional sponsors being sought this year to direct Junior Red Cross activities in other area schools.

Mrs. Sonya Adkerson serves as chairman of the Red Cross Youth Committee for the Tri-City Chapter. Mrs. Overbeck advised.

'Battle of Bands' Contest Entries Now Total Seven

Seven local bands have registered for the Granite City Jaycees' first annual "Battle of the Bands" contest, slated for 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 15, at the Wilson Park ice pavilion, Dr. Robert E. Schmidt, project chairman announced today.

Musical groups already entered include: "The Confederate Stripes," "Wye Deejun," Burlington Route, Town Cryers, Sound Foundation, End of Time and the Melodee Ramblers.

Pete Mays, a disk jockey from Radio Station Kshb, will emcee the event, with each band performing for a 20-minute period. Dancing will be permitted for spectators attending the contest, and ample seating accommodation is being arranged for those wishing to view the proceedings, Dr. Schmidt said.

Band registrations still are being accepted at John Fornazewski's Music store, 3009 Nameoki road. To be eligible for the contest, members of local musical groups must be 13 through 19 years old. Union groups and amateur bands are eligible to compete, the chairman noted.

The winning band will receive a $100 gift certificate to purchase equipment or instruments at Jack Johnson Music store in Bellemore Village shopping center. Additionally, a trophy will be awarded to the most outstanding individual instrumentalist appearing with a group.

Discount tickets, worth 25 cents off the admission price, will be available soon at local stores which display a "Battle of the Bands" poster, Dr. Schmidt said. No purchase at the participating stores will be necessary to receive a discount ticket, he added.

Draft Deferment Requests Needed Of College Frosh

All first-year college students in the Quad-Cities wishing a deferment from the draft must submit a written request to Local Selective Service Board 167 at Edwardsville, the board reminded today. The request must be made by the registrant himself.

After classes begin, the school will notify the registrant's local board of his status. Certification from the schools must be received regarding all students, but the request for deferment must be submitted only on first-year college students.

Those in other than the first year and having a student deferment would have the request for deferment in the file from last year and only one request is needed.

Meanwhile no one in the Quad-Cities area is scheduled to be drafted during September, but 25 men are to receive pre-induction physical exams.

Montagnard Tribesman To Graduate at SIU

The first Montagnard tribesman ever to receive an academic degree in the United States will be graduated Friday from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Pierre Marie Briuh, a former high school teacher in the South Vietnam Highlands, will be awarded a bachelor of science degree from the SIU college of education. He is one of two Montagnard teachers recommended for admission here by an SIU educational team in his homeland. The other is Hdok "C" Chu, a junior who expects to complete degree requirements next year.

Briuh came to SIU in the winter of 1965 after three months of intensive English study at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. But at first he had to rely largely on his ability to use French, which he had learned in Lycee Yeroin high school and DaLat University in his own country. Now he speaks English fluently.

Briuh, who hopes to teach in a normal school for the Montagnards, expects to leave for home immediately following commencement, because, he explained, education is as much a need as food and clothes for the people in the Highlands.

As a result of the war, however, the educational problem has become more serious than ever. Many schools are being closed for security reasons, and some teachers are leaving for city areas or refugee centers, and this, Briuh points out, has decreased the already insufficient number of teachers in the Highland areas.

Among the one million Montagnards in South Vietnam, Briuh's family probably is the best-educated. He and his brother, a student at the East-West Center, University of Hawaii, are among five Montagnards currently studying in the United States.

Teen Town Fall Dance Series Opens Saturday

The YMCA Teen Town on Saturday will resume weekly Saturday evening dances. The first band to perform will be "The New Del Rays," a regular band at Collinsville Park which has drawn large crowds in past appearances at the "Y." Other bands to be featured this fall will be "The Mosberg Shotgun," "The Rising Sons," "Black Zone," "The Aardvarks," "The Gary Hall Group," "The Sound Waves," "Hoss and the Lords" and many more.

The dances are held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. and all high school students are welcome. Youth Director Charles Hasse reports.

Fall Quarter Starts Sept. 24 At Carbondale

Fall quarter classes begin Sept. 24 at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale campus. Pre-registration figures are high. President Delyte W. Morris told a recent board of trustees meeting and single, undergraduate, on-campus housing has reached the saturation point.

No official registration figures are released until ten days after the beginning of the fall quarter. Late registrations, cancellations and the uncertain state of graduate enrollment due to the Selective Service situation combine to keep the projected numbers of students changing.

Students applying for university housing are referred to off-campus housing units. Several private dormitories and other smaller residence units make up the approximate 7400 spaces in off-campus housing.

Eighty of the 394 married and graduate apartment units built by the university south of campus have been filled, and others will be assigned as they are completed, Samuel Kinella, coordinator of Housing Business Services, said.

Plans for New Student Week are completed and information packets will be sent to new students.

The residence halls on campus will be opened for students Sept. 20 and 21. President Morris and Student Body President Sam Panayotovich will welcome students at an opening meeting Sunday, Sept. 22. Students will be assigned to groups under a New Student Week Leader at this time.

These leaders will help the new students with registration, schedules, and other tasks during their first few days on campus. Evening classes begin Tuesday, Sept. 24. Day classes begin Wednesday.

A talent show will be put on by the new students Friday, Sept. 27, in the Communications Building theater. An Activities Night Saturday will give the new students a chance to become familiar with the extracurricular activities on campus. Each recognized group is encouraged to set up and staff a booth highlighting its program.

Chancellor Robert MacVicar will make his first major address to the student body at the Chancellor's Convocation Thursday, Oct. 3.

Opportunities for students wanting to work on campus will be good, William French, coordinator of on-campus employment, said. About one-fourth of the freshmen work on campus during the year.

The combined student work and financial assistance programs provided about $9.7 million in assistance to students last year. The work program involves between 400 and 4700 workers who were paid $4.4 million last year.

Venice-Lincoln Technical Center Geared to Train 280 Persons from Two-County Area

By VALERIE EVENDEN
(First of two articles)

A vast sea of material, encompassing important equipment valued at thousands of dollars to insignificant but essential trivia such as may be found amid custodial supplies, virtually blankets the entire gymnasium floor at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

To a casual visitor or prospective student, the assortment of furniture, office machines, steam tables, filing cabinets, movie projectors, tape recorders and a variety of first-aid, child welfare and cleaning supplies is staggering to contemplate and the items on view comprise but a minute portion of the school's eventual equipment.

Inventory of the new machinery and furnishings which will transform the former Lincoln grade school into a functioning vocational-technical training center is taking place simultaneously with continuation of daily classes for about 56 full-time students.

Geared for 280 Students
Officially, the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center is starting its fall semester with an educational program geared to handle 280 persons. However, little increase in its present student enrollment is anticipated for two or three weeks, according to Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln administrative head.

Rankin notes that many pre-registered adult students are expected to begin courses after their school-age children start their own studies in area school districts.

Close to 400 two-county area residents have been referred to the Venice school district-operated center for enrollment in vocational courses this fall. Of this number, 262 persons reside in Madison county, with the remainder coming from parts of St. Clair county, outside the East St. Louis area. East St. Louis is not included in the vocational school's attendance jurisdiction as other facilities for vocational training already exist in that community.

The latest adult education and training facility to attain center status in Illinois, the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center is financed with funds provided by the federal government and the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

Plans for the center ultimately call for its expansion into one of the largest technical education facilities in Illinois.

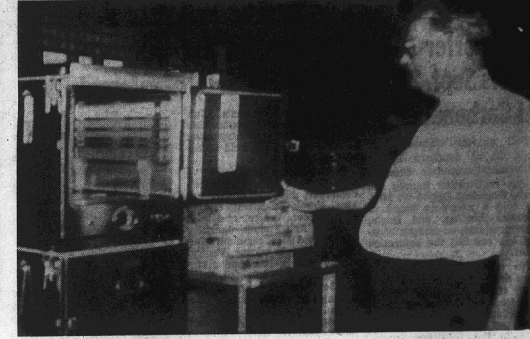

CROWDED GYMNASIUM. Venice Supt. of Schools John O. Pier (right) and Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln Technical Center director, surrounded by more than $22,000 of miscellaneous equipment recently delivered at the new vocational training school.

The funds are administered through the Illinois Office of Public Instruction, Adult Education Division, with Venice School District Three maintaining direct operational and policy-making control over the center.

Local Supervision. Although financial matters are subject to federal and state approval—hiring of personnel, general policy and curriculum decisions are under the direct supervision of the local school authorities. The term—attainment of center status—implies predecessor training courses and in the case of Venice school district, experience in such courses has been effective over a number of years.

FOOD WARMING OVENS to be used in the vocational center's child care program are inspected by Supt. John O. Pier. The appliances, stacked along each other, serve a dual purpose—to carry and keep meals hot from a centrally located kitchen, and as serving units. About 50 pre-school-age children of trainees will be cared for at the center.

Considered by Illinois school and public aid authorities as the most strategic location for a state-supported technical vocational training school, the Venice site is within the two-county East St. Louis Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, where the recipient rate for public aid and the unemployment rate tend to be higher than in most of the other eight SMSAs of Illinois.

A vocational-technical school for the Venice area has long been envisioned by Venice Supt. of Schools John O. Pier, who began working towards its realization in 1962.

Numerous obstacles intervened. One serious impediment arose late last year when the Venice school board announced that Lincoln grade school, an all-Negro school, would be closed and its pupils transferred to the Venice grade school on Broadway.

Federal Directive
The school board's move sought to accomplish two objectives—total integration of the Venice school district as directed by the U. S. Department of Justice, and release of the Lincoln building for a vocational school.

Proposed consolidation of students into the Venice building and related plans for establishment of a vocational school in the vacated premises quickly backfired, when several groups of Negro citizens reacted negatively and began picketing and protesting the action.

Representative of many Venice Negro parents spoke out heatedly at school board meetings, deploring the board's proposal in what, to them, appeared to be abandonment of a fine new building, constructed less than 18 years ago, to transfer the youngsters into the older and less attractive Venice grade school.

Long-Range Planning
At first, little attention was paid to Board President Michael Leatherman's determined efforts to compel the unhappy parents to view the long-range benefits of establishing a local vocational training center.

It was emphasized that unemployed and unemployable adults, high school dropouts and underemployed persons could obtain a trade and upgrade their education through programs at the center, thereby increasing their earning power and bettering living conditions for entire families.

To alleviate the suggestion that moving the Lincoln children to Venice school would seriously overcrowd classrooms in that building, a nine-classroom addition was constructed at the Venice grade school at a cost of $108,000.

During the intervening months, several spokesmen for the Venice school district played in the summer of 1962 when the Department of Public Aid was advancing the cause of specialized case studies wherein adults with work potential were identified and referred to services which led to the employment of many.

Stepped up GED Program
He recalls that in this earlier venture, 75 persons received General Education Development instruction and that 50 of them passed the formally administered GED tests and received high school equivalency certificates.

Shortly thereafter, 36 families left the assistance rolls, and three went on to college to attain professional level jobs.

Pier is doubly proud of the 1962 effort because the clerical help and the teachers were unpaid volunteers. One of the most rewarding left the inspiring examples of the early efforts by the Venice school district to provide educational assistance to area residents is reflected in the case of Mrs. Miltha Williams—a former Aid to Dependent Children recipient who secured a GED high school equivalency certificate through the Venice schools, studied x-ray technology under a Department of Public Aid training program and who now is self-supporting and no longer in need of assistance.

"Send Us More"
Recently, Sister Anita Louise, CSI, administrator of St. Joseph Hospital in Kirkwood, Mo., told the Illinois Department of Public Aid—"If you have any more people like Mrs. Williams please send them to us."

Mrs. Williams story—as far as public records are concerned—began in August 1959, when she moved from a southern state to Illinois with her husband and two small children.

Neither Mrs. Williams nor her husband had finished high school and neither possessed job skills of any consequence. Her only work experience was that of a barmaid and her husband had eked out a living as a handyman, rarely making more than $46 a week—hardly sufficient to support a family of four.

Frustrated and discouraged by his inability to provide for his family, the husband drifted from one job to another, finally arriving at the point where he had none. The family, which had now grown to five, then applied for and received General Assistance.

Then in October 1961, the husband left his family and has not been heard from since. According to Mrs. Williams, there were many days when there was no food in the home and in desperation, she applied for ADC. The case was opened by the Madison County Department of Public Aid on Dec. 27, 1961—two days after the bleakest of a long series of bleak Christmases.

On her initial visit to the home, the caseworker assigned to Mrs. Williams noted there were many things in the woman's favor—she, her children and her home were neat and clean, she was intelligent and possessed a desire to learn and improve herself, she wished to become self-supporting and weak all ties with Public Aid, and she appeared to have the energy and incentive to accomplish her goals.

Adult Enrollee
In September 1963, Mrs. Williams enrolled in an adult education class in the Venice school district and received her GED certificate in May of the following year. When she expressed a desire to take up x-ray technology, arrangements were made for her enrollment at the Homer G. Phillips Hospital in St. Louis and on Sept. 1, 1964, she was accepted.

When asked at that time what she thought her chances were of her new venture, Mrs. Williams replied with confidence, "Whatever there is in the text-books for me to learn, I'll take it out and master it until it becomes a part of me."

The 24-year-old student was true to her word. Despite all the obstacles she encountered during her 26 months of intensive training—child care problems, loss of home ownership, commuting to school by bus each day from Eagle Park, an unincorporated community south of Madison and a distance of nearly 30 miles to the hospital, and at the same time caring for her home and family—Mrs. Williams persevered and on Dec. 1, 1966, she received her diploma from the hospital recognizing her as a registered x-ray technologist.

Finding a Job
The next step was finding a job—a task colored in stride by most people who have worked for a number of years. However, Miltha Williams' case was different and a distance of nearly 30 miles to the hospital, and at the same time caring for her home and family—Mrs. Williams persevered and on Dec. 1, 1966, she received her diploma from the hospital recognizing her as a registered x-ray technologist.

Venice-Lincoln

hospitals scattered throughout the St. Louis metropolitan area, she lived in an area not convenient to public transportation and she lacked a telephone in which to receive incoming calls from prospective employers.

With the help of local school and Public Aid personnel, she placed an advertisement in a St. Louis newspaper on April 21, 1967, and two days later she was contacted by St. Joseph Hospital of Kirkwood asking her to come for an interview. She started working on May 8, 1967, and one month later her case at the Madison County Department of Public Aid was closed.

Although not all her problems are yet resolved, Mrs. Williams is confident each one will be overcome. Two weeks ago, she commuted to St. Joseph's from her home at 208 Watson road, Eagle Park, where she has lived the past eight years—a distance of 30 miles each way.

The traveling time involved required her to arise at 5 a.m.; feed her three school-age children, Shirley, 10, J. L. "Junior," 9, and Jacquelyn, 7, get them ready for school; take them to a baby-sitter with whom they stayed until school started; and then at 6 a.m., catch a ride with a neighbor to St. Louis.

Bus Transfers, Hill Climbing
There, she boarded a bus to Kirkwood, transferring at least twice, walked several blocks from the end of the bus line and climbed two steep hills to reach the hospital by 7:45 a.m.

Two weeks ago, Mrs. Williams accepted a similar position in the x-ray department of St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis. She hated to leave St. Joseph's which gave her the opportunity to prove herself, but she hopes the proximity of St. Mary's will afford her more time with her children.

"Mrs. Williams case is a wonderful example of what can be achieved through the new vocational training center," Supt. Pifer commented this week.

"We have been extremely fortunate to secure the services of several top-flight instructors. It is amazing the distance that some teachers have come to apply for a job here."

The Venice school board recently hired five additional teachers to augment the training center's faculty which includes 11 instructors and a guidance counselor. One position has yet to be filled, Rankin said.

A current profile of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center shows a training capacity for 280 adults, to be referred from the bi-county area. A pilot program in child care—a form of year-round Head Start—which will accommodate 50 children between the ages of three and five years is scheduled.

Bus Service
Contractual bus service provides two-way point-to-point transportation for trainees and children. Other services include educational and vocational counseling and job placement.

In the academic field, basic education and GED instruction are offered. Business education and courses in home mechanics, family living, health and personal services are available. Technical courses are in the process of materializing from written guidelines and recommendations, all approved by state authorities, into hard reality.

Courses expected to start later this fall, or by Jan. 1, include architectural drawing, auto mechanics, auto body repair, blue print reading and drafting, prop- erty arts, machine shop, mechanical drawing, welding, power sewing, and instruction in preparation for state and federal Civil Service examinations.

Hot Lunches
Facilities are spacious and include sufficient classroom space to accommodate all the proposed programs. A cafeteria will provide hot lunches for students, starting about Oct. 1, and the gymnasium will be turned into an auto body shop, and repair and welding stations.

Courses lacking the maximum number of public aid enrollees will be open to any area resident at a nominal fee of $5 per month. The facility is there. The nucleus of qualified teaching staff is present. Initial obstacles and preparations are in the past. The area to be served by the new vocational training center is statistically in vital need of such programs.

What about the students? Will the example of a Milbina Williams encourage the dropouts, the unemployed to return to school and strive for similar goals?

The enthusiasm and excitement for the entire program, as displayed by two new instructors while talking to a reporter last week, generates itself throughout the building. This feeling must be communicated to the trainees who are seeking "the better life"; encouraging them to continue, regardless of adverse conditions and thereby achieve for themselves economic independence and dignity.

2 Local Residents Enlist in Army

Two Quad-Cityans have enlisted in the U. S. Army and are now undergoing basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. It was announced today by the local Army Recruiting Station.

The enlistees are Leopold Joseph Six III, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Joseph Six II, 1520 Seventh street, who has attended Madison high school and selected the regular Army on a two-year guaranteed enlistment option, and Thomas James Teague, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard Teague, and husband of Mrs. Rita Marie (White), 3004 Gaslight Walk apartments, who selected the Army Security Agency as his guaranteed enlistment option.

He is a graduate of Simpson College of Indiana and was teaching at Cahokia high school during the 1967-68 school year.

Col. Hoskin to Talk on Business Opportunities

Dr. Robert L. San Soucie, executive vice-president of Emerson Electric Co. and president and general manager of Emerson's Electronics and Space Division, will be the luncheon speaker for a one-day business opportunities conference to be held in St. Louis Sept. 5 at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel.

Other speakers will include Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, Granite City Army Depot commander.

The program is designed to show manufacturers throughout this metropolitan region how to sell their products to the federal government. It will also acquaint research and development organizations about the availability of government research contracts.

San Soucie will discuss "Trends in Defense Procurement."

The full day's program will feature speakers from both the defense and civilian sides of the government, and offer attendees a chance to bid on production estimated to be worth $50 million.

Speakers from Washington, D. C., will include Albert La- zure, director of small business and economic utilization policy, Department of Defense; Jack Askins, chief Army small business advisor; and Melvin B. Harris, Business and Defense Services Administration, Department of Commerce.

Speakers from this region will include Garland R. Hadley, executive vice-president of the St. Louis Research Council, who will conduct a research and development seminar; Kenneth S. Vandergrift, corporate small business administrator, McDonnell Douglas Corp.; and Col. Hoskin, who is chairman of the Federal Executive Board in addition to his duties at the local Depot.

More than 40 representatives of government and industry will be present to counsel businessmen attending the conference. They will represent agencies with production or with research and development projects and requirements.

The conference is jointly sponsored by the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corporation, St. Louis Research Council, Federal Executive Board, the State Congressional delegation and a number of U. S. government agencies. Reservations are available through the Research Council, 7701 Forsyth, St. Louis, Mo. 63105.

Scrap Price Cut To Hurt City Program

The cut in price on scrap metal at the Laclede Steel Co. Wood River processing firm will hurt Granite City's program of attracting city street and vacant lots of abandoned vehicles, Mayor Parney told council members Monday night. He asked the aldermen to give consideration to the problem and offer any solutions.

Alderman Paul J. Barzoff yard south of Madison is planning to clear a larger area to handle more scrap cars, but Parney said he had received a complaint from the operator of that yard. Price of $5 a ton is being termed unreasonable by the scrap dealers, who had been receiving up to $12 a ton for scrap metal hauled to processing yards.

"We normally have 200 to 300 cars a year hauled off the city streets, and this could cause us a tremendous problem unless a solution is found," the mayor commented. The plant at Wood River is the only one in the area with an auto shredding operation. The next closest is in Kansas City, Mo.

Vigilante Whistles Available

Public Invited to Crime Control Program at 'Y'

Representatives of area organizations and the public are invited to attend a "Control on Crime" educational program at 7 p.m. next Thursday in the YMCA. The program will be sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, with the Granite city police department presenting a 30-minute film entitled "Every Hour, Every Day."

Mrs. Mary Batson, Granite City B&P president, said the educational seminar is designed to aid law enforcement agencies control crime in the local community by making everyone aware of the rising crime rate. In addition to the documentary movie, correct use of the "Vigilante Whistles" will be explained to those attending.

"Vigilante Whistles," a project of the National B&P organization, have been used successfully in other areas of the country as a crime preventive measure.

The whistles now are available from B&P members at a cost of $1 each. The local businessmen's group will make the whistles accessible to other clubs or individual purchasers, Mrs. Batson said.

Area organizations wishing to secure a speaker for future "Control on Crime" programs are asked to contact Mrs. Batson.

GC Council Oks 13 New Stop Locations

Stop sign installations at 13 locations, including seven on streets intersecting Franklin avenue and stops on Franklin avenue at Waterman avenue were approved Monday night by Granite City council members with the adoption of five separate ordinances.

The ordinances specified that fines for violations could range up to $100.

Cross-street stops along Franklin avenue will be located on Adams, Mantley, Richmond, Garfield, Lindell, Cottage and Clark avenues.

When Mayor Partney commented, "It looks like we'll be having some traffic tie-ups with stops being created at every intersection." Eighth Ward Alderman Davies replied, "The people want these. There have been a lot of accidents along Franklin where there have been no stops."

Other new stop sign locations will be on Wilson avenue at Buxton avenue, on Circle drive at 26th place and on 26th place at Circle drive, on Mitchell avenue at Nameoki road and on North street at Nameoki road.

A request also was made for an ordinance to be prepared for stop signs on Faith avenue at Marshall avenue, and police were asked to determine the need for stop signs along 18th street to control speed of traffic between Benton and State streets.

Lease Guarantee Plan Will Aid Small Firms

John P. Pfeiffer, regional director, St. Louis office of Small Business Administration, has announced that a Lease Guarantee Seminar will be held Wednesday, Sept. 18, to acquaint bankers, attorneys and businessmen with SBA's new lease guarantee program.

A lease guarantee is an insurance policy issued to a small businessman guaranteeing to the landlord that rent payments will be made.

T. Ben Harris and Lloyd C. Solt of Commercial Loan Insurance Corp. will be guest speakers. The corporation is participating with the SBA in the lease guarantee program.

The seminar will be held in the Bel Air East Motel, 4th and Washington, St. Louis from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

As space is limited, no one will be admitted without prior reservation. Mail reservations are to be sent to the SBA office, 208 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. 63102. Phone reservations will be accepted at Main 2-4181. Reservations must be made prior to Sept. 18.

How to Write a (Book) Explained

"Andy Warhol's Index (Book)," Random House, New York, $4.95.

Reviewed by Gerhard Maguire, a member of the Southern Illinois University art department faculty.

(Review published in the Daily Egyptian, Department of Journalism, SIU, Carbondale.

Eruptions of image into off-the-page 3D, or modules umbilically tied to the surface by string.

The text is part of the environment, not too important by itself except that it deliberately sets out not to make sense but to involve you in Andy's world.

So, for only $4.95 plus tax you are admitted to Andy's house. It's like being the victim on Candid Camera, only you know that you are on and that you have to go along with it or don't disappoint all those people.

Mostly the watchers are Andy's in-group—Danny, Francis and Rose, Gerard, Nico, Onnie and Ingrid Superstar and International Velvet.

They are looking at you through their one-way dark glasses and at them darkly through a silk screen. There you are in Andy's studio and nobody is paying much attention.

Everything is high contrast black and white or silver, indistinct and flickering.

If in the first few pages you make your way past the Brillo boxes and Campbell's soups, you get to play a role in a dialogue called "An Interview with Andy at the Ballroom Farm."

You play the reporter. You are a German reporter who speaks English words in German type, like in war movies the bad guys speak English in German accents.

Andy replies in English type. It's a put-on, see? Because this reporter keeps asking all these sensible questions and you are formed quite reasonably ask and Andy just says "Yea," or "No" or "It keeps me busy."

And then one day you go up on the roof to watch Andy launch a big plastic balloon and somebody takes a picture of the scene and it becomes a double spread at the end of Andy's book and somebody has this real neat idea of pasting Hummel estimates in the fold of the picture at the end of Andy's right arm.

And on the little balloon are the letters INDEX, the title of the book simultaneously launched.

From the rooftop, megalopolis. You can get involved if only the music plays loud enough.

You can have a great time at the in-group party where everybody blows his own balloon and pop goes the culture.

The children know that Nada and Dada are watching.

Opposite this dialogue is a photo of one of Andy's silk-screened girls or boys looking at you across the back of a chair, and almost hidden in the lower right is Albert Durrer's famous white cube.

Just as with the letters COSY FAN TUTTE among giant Baby Ruth bars in the bubble spread, you are supposed to keep in mind that Andy knows all about Durer and Mozart, but that he operates within a value system where such aesthetic constructs have become minor detritus of a pop culture.

After all, during New York's garbage strike, it's much more interesting to watch the stuff to get to the Lincoln Center or to the Electric Circus.

More: a reprint from the Fire Island News about what it's like to attend an underground movie.

Critics' nasty epithets for Andy's Chelsea Girls reproduced on a disk attached to the page by a small spring so that it literally quivers with indignation.

A transcription of pointless and haphazard dialogue between Velvet and Ingrid Superstar right off the tape recorder as they sit in a room with Andy.

Images of Andy's stars and playmates having fun in front of the camera, promising you they are in one shot, sitting idly in Central Park looking a little embarrassed and bored.

All around you you hear the happy laughter of Andy's gang, for real if you play the plastic coated paper recording that comes as a tear-out in the book.

"This is Andy's book for the rest of the world," says a voice. "Well, outside New York," says another.

"The beginning of the world." "But the rest of the world is us."

"This is a very sentimental book," says the voice of Ingrid Superstar over the din. "We are supposed to be just talking."

In a way, in a way. But just suppose you are not pretending to be one of the lost children in a cluttered room where everybody is making movies with the camera running while you walk around, when Andy's books for you and paints for you—the rest of the world.

And then one day you go up on the roof to watch Andy launch a big plastic balloon and somebody takes a picture of the scene and it becomes a double spread at the end of Andy's book and somebody has this real neat idea of pasting Hummel estimates in the fold of the picture at the end of Andy's right arm.

And on the little balloon are the letters INDEX, the title of the book simultaneously launched.

From the rooftop, megalopolis. You can get involved if only the music plays loud enough.

You can have a great time at the in-group party where everybody blows his own balloon and pop goes the culture.

The children know that Nada and Dada are watching.

Madison Youngsters Needlessly Caught In Middle of School Pay Disagreement

The world was disrupted for Madison pupils by the failure of most of their teachers to report for duty this week, and by the subsequent closing of schools.

Youngsters need to see the world as it is, rather than being brought up under artificial conditions that would fail to prepare them for later life. But they also need order and at least a few certainties in life to aid them in learning. And, in this increasingly technological era, they badly need every day a education they can get.

School officials and faculty members saw justification for their opposing viewpoints, but what was forgotten was that the children were caught in the middle, victims of a situation over which they had absolutely no influence.

Salaries and working conditions eventually will be agreed upon; they always are. It was shame and probably unnecessary that instruction was halted in the meantime.

The rationalization used by strikers was that education would be harmed even more by according to teachers. The rationalization used by school officials was that the trump cards were in their hands, that passage of time or court action would achieve a return to work even if they did not budge substantially in their offer.

Such judgments gave no voice and scant recognition to the interests of the third party—the students and the community in which they reside. Undoubtedly, public sentiment generally is not articulated; long-suffering citizens continue to suffer in silence, and neither of the two main protagonists hears enough support or opposition to its position to bring about a reversal.

It is much better to sit tight—than attempt to drive in that condition.

Circuit Court Ought to Resume Scheduling Cases in Granite City

Importance of the creation of a fourth circuit judge position in this district with the Nov. 5 election is shown by the fact that Granite court settings have been completely blank since the death of Associate Judge Lewis in 1964. This year, Magistrate and clerical services have continued, but no judge has been assigned, even for a brief period.

With restoration of the Third Circuit staff of circuit and associate circuit judges to the previous total of eight, there should be prompt resumption of trials here, one of the two principal population centers in Madison county.

The resumption ought to take place immediately, because there is no special significance to the fact that the rotation schedule called for Judge Lewis to next preside in Granite City. Death could have called any of the jurors.

What is important is the provision of court services to all people in the most effective and convenient way, which by its very nature must include extensive activity in Alton and Granite City as well as the county seat, Edwardsville.

A key to success is said to involve use of the horsepower of an armistist and the emergency brake of a pessimist.

Music, Sleep a Harmful Harmony

(American Institute of Physics)

A person who allows himself to be lulled to sleep by music from a quietly playing radio may be harming himself without knowing it.

This preliminary finding of the National Research Council of Canada is the result of a new high-speed method of analyzing the effects of noise on sleeping subjects.

Levels of noise as low as 50 decibels (the ratio of a quiet radio) can disturb a sleeper without actually awakening him. The disturbance causes the subjects to go from a deep sleep, which is known to be necessary for a person's well-being, to a shallow sleep.

White sleeping, the subject's brain wave patterns are recorded on magnetic tape rather than on the standard electroencephalograph (EEG) chart. During playback, the tape is run through at 50 to 100 times the original speed and the EEG signals can be analyzed by a sound level recorder that indicates the depth of sleep.

Since the procedure permits an investigator to take an eight-hour recording and scan it for meaningful data in less than 10 minutes, it is expected to gain wide acceptance as an analytical instrument in other areas of sleep research.

Debentures—Sinking and Otherwise

(Investment Education Institute)

Q. Will you please explain convertible bonds, convertible debentures, sinking fund debentures?

A. A bond and a debenture are similar in that both represent a debt owed by a corporation, rather than a part of the ownership of the corporation. Actually, a debenture is a particular type of bond.

"Bond" is more likely to refer to a claim against certain specific assets, while "debenture" refers to a claim against the general credit of the corporation with no specific asset pledged to pay it off.

Both bonds and debentures may be convertible—in most cases, into the common stock of the corporation. However, it is possible for them to be convertible into another security, or even into a security of another corporation.

A "subordinated debenture" commonly refers to one that will not be paid off, if worst comes to worst, until previously issued debentures have been paid in full. It is "next-in-line."

"Sinking fund debentures" are ones for which the corporation sets up a sinking fund—that is, a fund into which it makes regular payments that will be used to buy back or retire the debentures.

Your broker can provide you with a list of convertible securities. More and more companies are issuing these days. Q. My wife and I are in our mid-40's. We have never invested and are uncertain how to start. If we started an investment club should we have members have a knowledge of investing, or do a group of friends and acquaintances learn by trial and error? If one inherited money, how would you suggest it be invested?

A. Organizing an investment club is a good idea, and I'm sending you a folder on how to do it. Most members of investment clubs start with no experience whatever. Nevertheless, using the Investment Club Manual and other tools supplied by the National Association of Investment Clubs, they quickly learn how to organize their club and how to go about studying stocks.

You don't put much money into your club to begin with; your experience and investment knowledge grow along with the amount of money you have invested.

One reason for starting an investment club is to learn. As you learn about a number of different companies, you will be in a position to understand them and analyze other companies. You will know where to put any funds you may have. You will know how to seek the advice of your bank trust department or a professional security analyst on how to handle it.

ACTION BY INDUSTRIES ON SMOKING, DRINKING

To the Editor: A New Jersey industry is to pay $10 extra per month to non-smokers. It claims a cigarette smoker loses 30 minutes' work time per day.

The Parker Drilling Co., with offices from Alaska to Bolivia, recently announced that it would pay $10 extra to non-smokers anywhere—at work, at the bar or home. Any violation on the part of the 400 employees would result in immediate dismissal.

Scholarship Income Not Taxable

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q—My daughter has a partial scholarship for college. Will she have to count this as income for tax purposes and will it affect our dependency exemption for her?

A—Income from scholarships is generally not taxable if the student does not have to be included by parents in determining a student's total support. So, unless your daughter's scholarship has some special feature it should not affect the tax situation of either of you.

Q—I had to pay a penalty on my mortgage when I sold my house because it was paid off early. Is there any deduction for that?

A—The penalty for paying off a mortgage before the due date is considered an interest charge and should be included with your other interest payments. It is not a selling cost on your old house.

Q—Just paid the balance on my 1967 taxes and now you've sent me another bill for the same amount. What should I do?

A—Return the bill to the service center indicating when and where you made the payment. This will stop the issuance of any further bills on your account. Extra bills are made to locate your payment.

Within 30 days, you should be notified by the service center that your payment either has been credited to your account or that we are unable to locate it. If the payment cannot be located, you will be advised what to do next.

Music for dancing will be furnished by "The Unknowns," a local group who will perform from 8 to 11 p.m. Brown said. Admission will be $1 per person.

The series of teenage dances began June 6 and average attendance for the seven previous events totaled about 550 young people, the park official noted. Two earlier dances were arranged by the park district without charge to the teenagers, he explained, adding that one other was sponsored by an outside organization.

If you're house-hunting without professional help, why not sell magazine subscriptions on the side?

You'll be ringing lots of doorbells anyway.

A person really gets around when he looks for a home on his own. If you enjoy a wild goose chase, it's the ideal way. But if your time is precious, see a Realtor. A Realtor is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. He'll show you the kind of homes you want at the price you can pay.

I look for a Realtor where you find this seal. You'll find he always rings the bell.

Service; John Towrey, Project Transition coordinator; Jerry Quirk, Nestle Co.; and Steve Jackson, American Steel Foundries. Also present were Glen Graham, Dow Chemical Co.; Russell Crecelius, General Steel Industries; Clarence Vogel, Laclede Steel Co.; and William F. Hoelscher, Manufacturers Association manager.

Mayor Plans Emergency Measure to Raze Buildings

Reasoning requests and emergency measures to proceed with condemnations for razing dilapidated structures were given special consideration Monday night by Granite City council members.

The council voted to authorize issuance of a permit to Austin Lamkin for a confectionery at 2725 Nameoki drive in advance of the Sept. 12 meeting.

ing of the City Plan Commission. William F. Hoelscher, chairman of the commission, advised the council by letter that it was likely the change from residential to commercial zoning would be authorized by the commission.

Several aldermen pointed out there presently are no stores in the North Granite area and persons residing in the area want the confectionery. The Plan Commission also is to consider on Sept. 12 a request for a tract with 388 feet frontage on Nameoki drive at the Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks to be rezoned from R-1 single-family residential district to a Business district.

Final approval was given for a plat for the second addition to Wilson Park Estates subdivision which had been placed on first reading last week.

Mayor's Plan
Mayor Partney advised the council he plans to use the emergency powers of the executive office to carry out condemnations and razings.

Partney said dangerous conditions at several locations with the threat of disastrous fires and circumstances which delay routine condemnation procedures call for emergency steps. Locations mentioned included vacant and hazardous structures in the 2700 block of Denver street and 2800 block of Iowa street and fire-damaged buildings in the 1700 block of Delmar avenue and the 1700 block of Grand avenue.

Another possible solution would be through injunction-type proceedings recently authorized by new legislation. City Atty. Allen remarked a stumbling block may be the matter of locating the proper owners.

Oppose Dropping 'Bluebird'
In other business, the council adopted a resolution to be forwarded to the Illinois Commerce Commission objecting to the proposed discontinuation of the "Bluebird" passenger train by the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

The resolution points out the train running between St. Louis and Chicago is the last passenger train to provide service for Granite City area passengers. Council members gave unanimous support to the resolution and recommended that individual Granite Cityans write complaints to the ICC at Springfield.

Another resolution was approved transferring $2500 from the sales tax fund to the air pollution control fund to provide for budgeted expenditures. Bids are to be sought for an animal disposal unit for the city's animal shelter, with $500 budgeted for the installation. Council members also called for the city humane officer to answer promptly all calls for pickup of dead animals. Delays of up to a day were noted.

Recorders, Parking Meters
Bids also are to be sought for tape recorders for the police department, and the council called upon officials of the Downtown Granite City Merchants Association, headed by Paul Niebur, to meet with the police chief and council members to go over bids for parking meters for the 36 parking spaces on the new lot being established in the 1800 block of Edison avenue off 19th street.

The retailers are paying costs for paving the lot and the city is to buy and maintain the meters. Bids were received from three meter firms. Alderman Whitmer presented the bids, which were $80 each for twin meters and $48 for single meter heads by Kar-Park Co.; $157 for twin units and $88 for singles by Reeves Equipment Co., with alternates of $125 and $85; and $150 for twin units and $73 for single units by the Rockwell Mfg. Co. The city will need 16 twin units and four single units for the lot.

Approved by the council was Mayor Partney's appointment of Mrs. Virginia Mellich, 2434 Dewey avenue, as secretary for the city inspection and zoning office. Her pay will be $325 a month, and the appointment begins Sept. 1.

Three New Programs On Ketc Channel 9

Thirteen masters of science and their great achievements in mathematics, astronomy and physics are the subjects of an informative television series, "Dr. Posin's Giants," which will be presented Tuesdays at 5:15 p.m. beginning Sept. 3 on Television Channel 9.

With the aid of sketches, photographs, blackboard chalk-talks, and a cat named Minerva, Dr. Posin makes vivid the contributions of men like Archimedes, de Vinci, Copernicus, Galileo, Newton and Faraday. He is professor of physics at DePaul University and also will discuss in the series Hipparchus, Tycho Brahe, Johannes Kepler, Christian Huygens, William Herschel (and his sister Caroline), Nikolai Ivanovich Lobachevsky and James Clerk Maxwell.

Viewers may register for the telecourse and receive a textbook and TV study guide through the Registrar, Ketc, 6996 Millbrook blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63130. Enrollment fee is $8 for Ketc members and $18 for non-members.

Also planned for the new fall programs will be an exploration of the little-known world of the potter to be presented in "About Ceramics" to be telecast Wednesdays at 5:15 p.m. and again at 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 4, Ketc, Channel 9.

Prof. Earl McCutchen, who hosts each program, will demonstrate the work of the potting artist and discuss the aesthetic principles and materials involved in ceramics.

Telecourse enrollment fees for the series are $1 for members and $11 for non-members. The third program to be presented this fall is entitled, "The Beginning of Life," a unique and artistic Swedish film on the development of the fetus and the act of birth and will be a two-part program on sex education on Wednesday, Sept. 4 at 8:30 p.m. on Ketc, Channel 9.

The second portion of the program will be a discussion of the film and such related subjects as the advisability of sex education for school children.

Dr. Mary Calderone, executive director of the Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S. and the Rev. George Hagmaier, associate director of the Paulist Institute for Religious Research, are two of the authorities who will participate in the discussion of sex education for children.

Partney Casts Deciding Vote For Bills, Payroll

Mayor Partney was called upon to cast the deciding vote Monday night to gain approval of the $224,348 bill for the $46,329 half-month payroll and 881 employees sick leave payments.

In each instance there was an 8-to-5 vote for approval, necessitating a vote by the mayor to provide a majority of elected council members. Absent were Aldermen Bartosiak, who was working, Green, who is away on vacation, and Johnson, who was called out of the meeting due to an illness in his family.

Opposition voting to the payments regulated when Mayor Partney called upon Alderman Rutledge to give the Finance committee report. Rutledge is the mayor's choice as committee chairman, while the council has named Boyd to the post.

As the bill list was submitted, Alderman Bartosiak asked the mayor if there was a hearing scheduled in the circuit court case filed by the mayor to settle the double-committee dispute.

Partney replied, "The suit has been filed, and it has cost me a little money. I hope it costs the aldermen a little money too."

Careful counts were kept by several aldermen as each of the votes progressed, and they were quick to call upon the mayor for the deciding vote. Partney commented that he was voting eye gladly on the expenditures he knew were correct.

The mayor-council dispute over committees has been going on since late May when Partney announced his appointments. At the first meeting in June, a majority group of council members presented appointments, and since then committee reports — with few exceptions — have been side-stepped at council sessions.

The bill list included a payment of $179,421 to S. M. Wilson & Co., contractor for the storm water drainage project, and $16,150 to Millam East Corp. for refuse removal during August.

An objection was raised by Alderman Neom to a payment of $30 to Prof. Irwin H. Parrill for services to the air pollution control board during July.

"He's only on the job in a temporary status and is getting more pay than our regular acting technical secretary," Neom remarked.

He called for a breakdown of the expenses and was advised by Mayor Partney that it is on file with the comptroller.

The payroll was for the last half of August and the sick leave payments were for the first half of August.

Police Seek Identity Of Baby Found Dead

Granite City police are continuing their investigation in the case of a baby found dead last Friday morning in an alley in Lincoln Place and are urging anyone with information about a missing infant to contact Police Chief Ronald Veizer or Detective Leo Willis.

Records of births at St. Elizabeth Hospital and local welfare associations are being checked by police in efforts to learn the identity of the baby.

The child is believed to have been about three months old and had been dead about seven days when found behind 1750 Maple street. It was in a local grocery shopping bag and was wrapped in a baby blanket.

Problems Possible

City to Seek Bids For 7 Street Projects

Bid calls for seven of the 16 special improvement projects listed in Granite City's 1968-69 budget were authorized Monday night by the city council.

Mayor Farney cautioned that only those projects for which engineering has been completed should be advertised, since the new budget does not include any appropriation for paying an engineer. This resulted from the mayor-aldermen feud over appointment of a public engineer.

The mayor announced Monday night another 20-day appointment for Edward Jeneau of the local firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab as public engineer for the city. Council approval of a 30-day appointment has not been required.

Projects for which bids will be sought amount for $65,800 of the $109,460 budgeted for special improvement projects. There was indication that which project engineering work had been completed, although several projects were among those vetoed by the mayor last year.

Street Repaving, Curbs
Resurfacing projects include 19th street from Cleveland blvd. west to the railroad tracks, $900; the 2400 and 2500 blocks of Grand avenue, $10,000 and the 2100 block of Benton street, $6000.

Curb and gutter projects are East 25th street, east of Nantoki road, $10,000; the 2600 block of Center street, $400; Idaho avenue from Benton street to St. Paul avenue, $14,900, and the 1600 block of Maple street, $6500.

Alderman Robertson called for a legal opinion to determine if the city now can proceed with new sidewalk installation under a bid received earlier this year from the Tom Skerle firm. City Atty. Allen said he would study the proposal.

Sidewalk repairs at West 23rd street and Illinois avenue where a woman was hurt in a fall was urged by Alderman Rutledge who said the mishap occurred two years ago.

"Should Be Concerned"
"We should be concerned and give special attention to locations where such falls occur and I can't understand the delay when other sidewalk projects are being carried out," Rutledge added. Street Supt. Warfield replied he was aware of the situation but has not had sufficient funds.

Approval was given for several driveway installations — two 35-foot driveways on Johnson road at Valencia's Ice Cream shop and on Poplar street at the Jaycees building.

An ordinance was adopted creating a no-parking zone for unloading the Economy Floor Co. at 1320 Niedringhaus avenue.

Illinois Power Co. plans to advertise within two weeks for bids for installation of the white system along the south section of Nantoki road. It was reported by Alderman Fry, and the power company is to be asked to cut weeds along its right-of-way which parallels the Nantoki area storm water drainage ditch.

"Placed on file for communications that included a request by G. W. Thornburg, district manager here for the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co., that he be notified at his office or his home at 2565 Buenger drive in the event of any emergency, and from Rev. W. L. Richardson of the Madison County Baptist Association thanking the city for its cooperation in the record Good News Crusade held at the high school athletic field.

Referred to the city attorney was a circuit court notice of the $12,000 suit filed against the city by Mrs. Virginia Kittell, 1741 Maple street, who said she suffered injury to her right ankle and foot in a fall Aug. 24, 1967, caused by a hole in the sidewalk along 18th street between State street and Grand avenue.
